FORTIE, John Alexander and Emma Jane Jeffs

Patriarch 1916 - 1957

Alexander Fortie was born in Heber, Utah, September 30, 1872. He was the son of Alexander and Rachel Howarth Fortie. John's father was a carpenter by trade and Abram Hatch persuaded him to come to Heber where he helped find him work. Alexander Fortie was the architect of the Wasatch Stake tabernacle which stands today. John learned the trade from his father. He had two sisters — Pamela Cluff and Martha Murdoch.
